

On Friday November 25th American chef Diane Anthonissen www.pariscookingco.com will prepare a sublime candlelight turkey dinner with all the trimmings for the American Club of Paris, at an elegant private medieval townhouse, Hotel de Vanssay, just steps away from Notre Dame de Paris. It will be an occasion to savor, and give thanks for having the privilege of living in such a beautiful city as Paris.

During the cranberry based cocktails and dinner we will be enchanted with musical interludes from Bach, Vivaldi, Mozart, Debussy, and others by the world-renown flutist, Nicolas Duchamp, who has played for the French National Opéra Comique de Paris since 2004 under the direction of Jerome Savary. <http://duchamp.musicblog.fr> It will truly be an evening to remember...
